Think about Ai:

I think all coding should be done in chatgpt, and learn more concepts. In the coming years AI will be more advanced, realistically for the people who plan on using r or r studio in the workplace will use chatgpt as the easy way out, everybody wants to work smarter not harder. I understand that coding in R is a skill to have though, so I believe that stating what the code does while using ai helps you learn the concept at the same time. So I believe class should be more on concepts then coding itself.
